School Superintendent's Report

We respectfully submit this our first annual report to the School Board and citizens of the town of Milan.

The statistical table which accompanies this report is presented for your careful consideration. The following observations may be made. There was a legal school year maintained in all the schools with the one exception of the Hodgdon Hill School. The changes in teachers in several of the schools were detrimental, no doubt, to the efficiency of the school. The salaries paid were small in comparison to those paid in many other towns. This is without doubt the cause of the many changes. Another result was, as far as I have been able to determine, many beginners in the profession and no graduates of normal schools.

The teaching force for the present year is composed of three teachers who taught last year, two of these have the same school. The work of these teachers is a demonstration of the principal that experienced teachers who are doing efficient work should be retained. The spirit of the teachers is excellent. They have been willing to co-operate with the school authorities and have generally done efficient work.

We found many problems in the grading of pupils and the adjustment of the text books to the grades. The State program used by the other schools of the State was not generally in use. In most cases the schools had been changed from a nine-grade system to an eight-grade system by dropping the work of the ninth year and not increasing the work of the lower grades. This was without doubt due to the shorter school year maintained before the present legal school year of thirty-six weeks was adopted.

The work of the seventh and eighth grades is not in accordance with the work prescribed by the State. While the work formerly done in these grades can be continued, yet the preparation for high schools of the State will not be properly done. The elementary school on the new plan ends with grade six. The work after this is high school. The boys and girls who have had their work in common are now slightly differentiated. The curriculum as given at Berlin and usually throughout the State for these grades is as follows: Applied mathematics, American History, Composition and Literature, French, Elementary Science and Cooking and Sewing for the girls with Manual Training for the boys.

We have endeavored to complete the required work of the first six grades in all the schools with grades seven and eight. Some of the schools have taken Physical Geography in lieu of Elementary Science and French where the teacher could do the work and the pupils had the essential work well under way. The work in English and Mathematics has been slightly changed to meet the new requirements.

It will be impossible to secure teachers who can do all of this work in all of the schools. The plan of the State is, where possible, to have the pupils above grade six come to a central school, and make their preparation for high school there, if they are to attend. This could be done, without doubt, at Milan and West Milan for most of the pupils. If the pupils come from Hodgdon Hill to West Milan for the work preparatory for high school, it would be advisable, no doubt, to maintain it as a two-room school. At Milan there would be an opportunity for the pupils in all the other schools to obtain this same preparation. The number of pupils attending may necessitate three teachers, but these three teachers could do, at least, one year of the regular high school and save on tuitions paid now at Berlin. Besides this an opportunity would be given to those pupils who can not go away to high school of continuing their work. It would not seem advisable to ask for an approved high school at present. For those at West Milan who can attend Berlin easily tuition should be paid for the full four years, and those pupils who would rather go to Berlin should be given that privilege. The work of the junior high school (grades seven and eight) should be approved, however, for pupils attending an approved junior high school elsewhere may have their tuition paid legally by the town.

Improvements have been made in the buildings in some parts of the town. Jackets for the stoves have been secured for all the one-room schools and will be put in place as soon as possible. The lighting has been improved in the Hamlin and Jewett school houses. The same improvements should be made on Milan and Hodgdon hills. The school house in West Milan seems in good condition. The rooms should be renovated and ceiling patched.

The stoves are in good condition, but could be improved by jackets. The building at Milan needs quite extensive repairs. The roof should be repaired. The ceilings should be patched and re-finished. The blackboards are paper board and are in poor condition. The stoves are broken and under capacity to properly heat the building. New jacketed stoves or some other means of heating should be secured before another fall.

We believe the improvements in the organization of the school can be made with but slight outlay. It may be necessary to secure one good teacher in addition to those you have usually employed. At least one-half of this would be saved in tuitions, and the town would be protected from paying tuition for pupils in grades seven and eight. The improvements in the building at Milan can be done by the funds usually raised. It may be necessary to secure some equipment, but by saving from the supply and text books funds most of this can be secured.

We believe the schools of Milan can be improved. The boys and girls are entitled to at least a good preparation for the high schools in the State of New Hampshire. If possible, further advantages should be provided for those who can not attend high school elsewhere. Improvements should be made in the buildings to protect the health of the children. Text books should meet the needs of the pupils and conform to the State program of studies. We believe these things are within the means of the MILAN—5 people and will not make taxes a burden. May we work together for better schools that the boys and girls of Milan may have the preparation for life demanded by the times.

Respectfully submitted,

E. J. BEST, Superintendent.

Auditor's Report

Milan, N. H., Feb. 15, 1921.

We hereby certify that we have carefully examined the accounts of the Selectmen, Treasurer, Clerk, Tax Collector, School District Treasurer, and Library Trustees of the town of Milan for the fiscal year ending January 31, 1921, and find them correctly cast and vouched for. While we find the accounts of Road Agents practically correct, their expenditures in many cases are not properly receipted for. We would respectfully recommend that our Road Agents in the future be furnished with systematic forms for keeping their accounts as a protection for themselves as well as the town.

Respectfully submitted,

A. V. HEBBARD,
